One of the ladies arose from the bed, and going quietly to the window, lifted the blind, when the light from the room fell upon a man who was evidently trying to gain access to the house through the window. The fellow immediately ran off, while the now terrified ladies commenced screaming at the top of their voices. Their cries aroused the neighborhood, and a number of gentlemen were soon on the scene, but the midnight prowler was nowhere to be found.

WATSON BROS.

A Great Record Made by a Successful Firm

Watson Bros., the well-known builders are just winding up a year which has been one of phenomenal success. To a HERALD representative the members of the firm yesterday said business this season had been very good, and in the spring they were forced to decline a number of contracts as they could not get the men for the work; during the summer they have worked sixty to seventy and eighty men continuously; masons and stone cutters receiving $1 a day.

The record made by this firm is a very proud one. Commencing in 1884 they have won their way solely by the character of their work. The first big contract which gave them prominence, was that of the government buildings at Fort Douglas, and since that time such buildings as the Hooper & Eldredge block, Z. C. M. I. Shoe Factory, a large portion of Z. C. M. I. proper, the Eldredge block, Mrs. Barratt's residence, Dr. Rowe's residence, part of the D. & R. G. depot, Mr. Webster's residence, the Studebaker Building, the Lawson residence and many others have come up as monuments of the stability and completeness of the firm's work. They have a fine corps of finished mechanics whom they keep with them all the season, and their experience has been that this expense is one that will pay itself in the reputation the work gains for itself.

At their establishment, corner of West Temple and South Temple, Watson Bros. have the finest and finest stock of iron and marble mantels, grooves, flooring and art tiles to be found in the Territory; they also carry a supply of plaster ornaments and Portland cement, and always keep on hand the well-known stone, the Sanpete oolite. They are now the heaviest shippers into this city of the handsome blue stone, now being so extensively used in building. A special feature of their business is the monument work and some of the most elegant monuments and headstones in the cemetery came from their yards.

Watson Bros. state that a new feature of this year's business in Salt Lake has been the advent of a number of eastern contractors, who came in with a flourish of trumpets, proclaiming that they were going to revolutionize the labor market by doing work cheaper than ever before. These parties had obtained some contracts, but they had lost heavily themselves in their endeavors, and only a few days ago the most prominent of them were soliciting Watson Bros. to buy up their tools, mortar beds and scaffolding; they "had enough of it." The Messrs. Watson say they have never desired to compete with this class of contractors, who might obtain jobs by cutting prices, and who are some one knows where in the work that he wants explained, while the home firm are always here to stand by the labors of their hands.

Judge Carlton's Letter.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 7, 1888.

Dear Doctor:—Before leaving for the east I wish to express my appreciation of your treatment of a complicated case of the eye. I have tried for several years to get far-seeing glasses, and I had concluded that I could get none that would be of any benefit to me. But after I saw the wonderful benefit of your system, I take pleasure in saying that the glasses furnished by you have restored my vision both for reading and far-seeing to the same condition as in my boyhood. I resolved to have you furnish me glasses after I witnessed your system to a beautiful young lady of 16 years, from Summit County, afflicted with a complicated condition of the eyesight. She told me she had never been able to distinguish one's face at a distance of six feet. With Dr. Prentice's glasses she could see as well as any one. As she looked up and down the street, and for the first time in her life saw the distant mountain tops, she was greatly delighted, and inquired with childish simplicity, "Do other people see this way?" It seemed that the new world was opened to her view, as novel and beautiful as "Eden's rose bowers," appeared to our first parents. Yours truly,

A. B. CARLTON, Chairman Utah Commission.

AN IMPORTANT PROJECT.

The Establishment of a Packing House Here.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, September 15th, 1888.

The committee appointed at the meeting of citizens, held at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday night, submit the following as reasons why it would be advisable to establish a packing house and canning factory in this city, if the bonus required is not too great, and it can be maintained in active and permanent operation:

Such a packing house and canning factory as it is proposed to establish here will give employment, directly, to close on 500 persons daily, and will involve an annual expenditure in wages of not less than $100,000. In addition to this, there will necessarily grow out of the inauguration of these industries others, such as a candle factory, lard refinery and fertilizing establishments, and it will give an additional impetus to the soap factories already in operation. These will give direct and indirect employment to fully as many more for wages equal to the amount expended by the primary industry.

Then again, there will be constructed union stock yards which will ultimately add more to the importance of our city than any enterprise that is likely to be commenced in some time. We have but to look at what these yards have done for Omaha to appreciate their value. Not only in the number of persons they will employ, but also that this enterprise will make of Salt Lake City the banking point for all who have cattle to buy and to sell, and will force the bringing of cattle from Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Montana, besides keeping at home those in our own Territory, will find this the most important consideration that has come before the people in years. It embraces interests shared equally by the rich and the poor, since to the former it means new accumulations and to the latter employment and the opportunity for diversity of pursuits.

Nor does the subject limit itself to these considerations. For pork stuffs alone this city and Ogden make an annual output of money of not less than $750,000. This is sent elsewhere, and other sections are enriched to the extent that we are impoverished. If the proposition now under consideration shall meet with that public approval which its importance seems to warrant, a stimulus to the saving of this amount and perhaps twice as much more, may be effected for our Territory in the raising and curing of pork alone. And this, too, has indirect advantages, as by the raising and fattening of hogs, a cash market will be found by the farmer for many of his products which are now a drug upon his hands. In the event of a packing house being established here, he can find an immediate sale for sale hogs, and this in effect a cash market for his wheat, barley corn and lucern.

The subject is of the utmost importance, not only as relates to this city, but as concerns our Territory, and it will be both unwise and unpatriotic for our business men to slight what seems to be so advantageous an opportunity of forwarding our municipal importance, and at the same time doing that which will so materially contribute to the advancement of all our interests as a Territory.

It cannot be denied that it is deserving of the serious consideration of all business men, not only for the assurance of rich returns, though indirect, which it promises to them, but for the duty the capitalist owes the poorer class of citizens, that employment, remunerative and permanent, may be had for those who must be employed.

This is not a call to members of the Chamber of Commerce, but to all classes who take an interest in the welfare of the community, the invitation is to come and take part in this discussion.

The Democratic Pow-wow.

The action of the Democratic committee on Friday evening, particulars of which were published in THE HERALD only, caused no little comment on the streets and in political circles yesterday. There was but one opinion among the respectable class of the Democratic party, and that was—a great mistake had been made in offering and adopting such a resolution.

The majority of the Democrats seen yesterday failed to agree with the action, and their action was entirely outside of Democratic principles, and must be condemned by every consistent member of the party. The end is not yet.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

The Sioux City Corn Palace—Business Notes.

The building boom continues, and while handsome business blocks are taking the place of ramshackle buildings in the business part of town, residences are going up in all parts of the city.

"We have had more than we could do this season," remarked one prominent architect yesterday, "and shall be glad when the season ends, for we are worn out. So far as building is concerned, I consider this the best season Salt Lake has ever enjoyed. Few persons have any idea of the number of residences that have been erected this summer, and we have every reason to believe that next season will be far ahead of this."

The lumber dealers and brick manufacturers are doing a big business, and are more than satisfied with the prospect for next year.

THE SIOUX CITY CORN PALACE.

The committee having the matter in charge selected something like a ton of mineral specimens from the Chamber of Commerce collection yesterday, to send to the Sioux City Corn Palace. The request for samples of Utah fruits and vegetables has not yet met with a hearty response, but they will doubtless commence to come in within the next few days. The railroads will carry the exhibit free of charge, and it is hoped they will also furnish transportation for those who will have charge of the display.

KELSEY & LITCHER sold lots 89 and 90 in Liberty Park addition, the property of E. B. Jones, of Beaver City, Neb., for $400, to James Randall, also Philip Pugsley's property, being the north two-thirds of block 87, plat C, for $2,700, to L. H. Gilbert, of Colorado Springs.

THE BUILDING SOCIETY held a booming meeting yesterday, taking in between $5,000 and $6,000 monthly dues. The 10,000 shares to which the society is limited by its charter, were exhausted over a month ago.

THE real estate men say that their business during the past week has been very satisfactory.

CANDY AND CRACKERS.

Two Industries That Have Grown Up Under Adversity.

We hear a good deal now and again of new enterprises. In the desire that they should come we are often unmindful of those already facing ahead. How many people would believe that H. A. Tuckett, who six years ago began in a little 8 x 10 place to make candies, and who was laughed at and had to use eastern brands to get the people to buy his goods, is now turning out two tons of candy a day, has to use steam and gives employment to some thirty persons? By his grit he has forced Idaho, Wyoming, and more marvelous still—Utah—to buy his sweets, and made work where there was no work before. His accommodations are always unequal to his demands, though he has made addition after addition. How is this for pluck?

The same is true of the Utah Cracker Factory, of which Mr. Henry Wallace is proprietor, and in which that A. No. 1, all-round German miller, Mr. George Huser, is also interested. From an institution that was of comparative insignificance it has, with the right men and pluck behind it, grown until it exports and also supplies the home market and gives work to workers. People may talk as they please, but these are the kind of men we need, and we are not particular where they come from or what they believe—they make good citizens and are public benefactors.

Reception to Mr. Brigham.

The reception tendered to Mr. Nat. M. Brigham, of the Omaha Lodge of Elks, by the Salt Lake Lodge, at the club house last evening, was among the social successes of the year, and for several hours the spacious rooms presented a handsome and animated appearance. Mr. Brigham sang "Last Night," and in response to a vociferous demand for another selection gave "The Linden Tree." Misses Bayne, Young and Dean sang the trio from the opera; Miss Bayne's rendition of "The Rose Tree," was so loudly applauded that she was compelled to answer again, and gave her opening solo in Mr. Sampson. Some very clever recitations by Mr. W. B. Calvert followed, and an adjournment was then taken to the dining room, where a tempting collation was spread, and after a couple of hours had passed, the guests dispersed loud in their praises of the hospitality of the Elks. It was a very enjoyable evening.
